

A wonderful writing day with the author Mark Lowery.-11th March

2019

Today the children and staff at Holy Family School welcomed the author Mark Lowery. Mark came to talk to the children about his vocation and his love of books and writing.

He began the day with a fun, engaging assembly about books, words and his passion to write.

Jam doughnuts featured in the writing workshops and the children learned about “hooking” the reader to engage them in their jamtastic stories. The children then had the opportunity to write their own jammy adventure stories and amazed Mark and their teachers with their ideas and choice of vocabulary.

Nursery, Reception and Year 1 enjoyed a special story and drama session using Mark’s favourite story The giant jam sandwich. Everyone enjoyed being hungry, buzzy wasps and sticky, sweet jam.

Mark ended his day signing books in our school library.

Mark challenged the children at Holy Family to read and write and that they could like him follow the vocation of being a writer and share their talents and skills with other.

A fabulous day with Mark

Lowery!
